

TREVOR GOMPF

Trevor, and Jodie Gompf, sons Bailey Plaisier and Denver Gompf live at Bison Spirit Ranch North of Oak Lake, Manitoba. Trevor has always had a passion for livestock, whether it was horses, which he was raised on, or bison which the Gompf family bought in 1997. In the past his main livelihood came from horses as he is a certified farrier. He competed in rodeos as a bull rider for 10 years and as a pickup man for 5 years He was also a director on the Manitoba Rodeo Cowboys Assoc. In 2007, Trevor decided to take on more responsibility with the ranch and is now 100 % dedicated to the bison. He recently expanded their cow calf operation, which he shares with his parents, Garnet and Nora Gompf. Trevor has also established a small bison feedlot, finishing around 400 head. He feels that bison have a great future and is proud to be a part of the industry
