

Mark Silzer

Mark Silzer has been active in various aspects of agriculture for the past 35 years. He has served as President of the Canadian bison Association for 12 years and currently serves as Past Chair. Mark has also served as President of the Saskatchewan Bison Association. He served as the bison representative on the Farm Animal Council of Saskatchewan and as Chair for two years. Mark served on the board of the National Farm Animal Care Council of Canada. Mark is also the bison representative for the Saskatchewan Hall of fame. Mark presently sits on the board of Pound-Maker, an integrated feedlot and fuel ethanol business. Mark also chaired the committee that updated the Code of Practice for the Care and Handling of bison.

Mark and Denise Silzer entered the bison industry in 1994 with partners Cecil and Jane Stumborg. They operate Wolverine Bison Co. – an integrated cow-calf, back-grounding and finishing operation of approximately 400 plains bison.

Mark currently resides in Humboldt Saskatchewan with his wife Denise and has two grown daughters.
